

Selective Dog Breeding

Dog is a faithful animal and it can be used for various purposes therefore, people are always curious to know about the dog breeds. The dog breeds are the ancestral lines of the dogs. Dog breeds are results from natural selection or through selective dog breeding. For thousands of years the dogs have been selectively breeding. In the selective breeding the same ancestral lines can be bred and sometimes different ancestral lines are bred. When a dog breed is healthy and perfect then breeding is usually done from the same ancestors.

For enhancing the features of a specific breed, different combination of dog breeds are bred. Therefore, dog breeds originate because of the selective dog breeding. In the recent years, you can find huge variations in different dog breeds like the characteristics of Chihuahua are totally different from characteristics of Great Dane.

Different types of dog breeds can be generally categorized as registered dog breeds, rare dog breeds and new dog breeds which are under development. On the functional basis there are seven categories of the dog breeds including; Companion dogs, Guard dogs, Hunting dogs, Pastoral dogs, Sled dogs, Extinct dogs, Hypoallergenic breeds and Police dog breeds.

A companion dog is a pet and it is not used for work or specific tasks. These dogs are friendly by nature therefore, dog lovers keep them as a hobby or for fun.

The dogs which are aimed to provide safety against the unwanted people are known as guard dogs. The special feature of this dog breed is that they bark more as compare to the other dogs in order to make the owners alert and active. The professional guard dog breeds are capable of attacking the suspicious person. The dog breed which is used for hunting purposes is known as hunting dog breed. These dogs are further categorized as hounds, terriers and gun dogs.

The pastoral dog breed include the dogs to work livestock. Sled dogs are healthy and powerful dogs because they are used for pulling the wheel less vehicle on runners. Some dog species are not available and they have become extinct and known as extinct dog breeds. Hypoallergenic dog breeds are also known as crossbreeds that are specifically bred for the individuals who have allergic issues. The dog breed which is used for the investigative and detective purposes by the police forces is known as Police dog breed.

Therefore, we can say that dog breeds are really useful for us in various ways and to enhance the quality of the dog breeds, proper breeding and training are essential. Topics of interest Dog beds ... Pedigree dog food coupon ...

About the Author

Similar articles on science diet dog food coupons, stop by here.

Source: <http://sportsmans-shop.com>